The origins of Veterans Day can be traced back to the end of World War I. On November 11, 1918, an armistice was signed between the Allies and Germany, ending the war. In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed November 11 as Armistice Day, a day to commemorate the end of the war and to honor those who had fought in it.

In 1954, Armistice Day was renamed Veterans Day by Congress. The change was made to honor all veterans, regardless of the war in which they served.

Today, Veterans Day is a day to remember and thank all those who have served in the United States Armed Forces. It is a day to reflect on the sacrifices that they have made and to honor their courage and dedication.
