Brewer begins his book by describing the capture of the first American POWs in 1964. These men were members of a Navy patrol boat that was attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Gulf of Tonkin. The survivors of the attack were taken to Hanoi, where they were subjected to a brutal interrogation. Brewer goes on to describe the conditions in which the POWs were held, the torture they endured, and the psychological effects of their captivity.

No Hanging Please Shoot Us is a powerful and moving account of the American POWs who suffered through the horrors of the Vietnam War. Brewer's book is a tribute to the courage and resilience of these men, and a reminder of the sacrifices they made for their country.
