Jane's journey began in the Mojave Desert, where she grew up exploring the rugged wilderness and learning to survive in the harsh conditions. From there, she went on to explore some of the most remote and challenging places on Earth, including the Arctic, the Our Book Library rainforest, and the Antarctic.

Along the way, Jane faced countless challenges. She was bitten by a venomous snake, lost her way in a blizzard, and nearly drowned in a whitewater rafting accident. But through it all, she never gave up. She kept going, driven by her passion for adventure and her desire to inspire others.

Today, Jane is a world-renowned adventurer and speaker. She has written several books about her experiences, and she regularly leads expeditions to some of the most challenging places on Earth. She is an inspiration to women everywhere, and her story shows that anything is possible if you set your mind to it.

In her book, Woman Adventures From The Mojave To The Antarctic, Jane shares her inspiring story and offers practical advice on how to overcome challenges and achieve your goals. She writes about the importance of perseverance, resilience, and never giving up on your dreams.
